

Pricing Guide

Every couple and every cake is different. But you're planning and wedding so you need to know approximately how much to budget for a customized cake for this, the most special of celebrations. Here you'll find our starting prices along with information about how the final quote is calculated.

Starting Prices

Buttercream Covered Cakes Start at $5 per serving

Fondant Covered Cakes Start at $6 per serving

The starting price is for an un-decorated cake. so the final quote will go up from there based on the design, flavor selection and venue location.

Calculating the Final Quote - My Process

In a nutshell, here is the formula for calculating the final quote: Starting Price + Design (materials & labor) + Delivery & Setup

When I first start chatting with a couple, I'll ask for the following information: How many guests you want the cake to serve? What is your color palette and overall look of your wedding? Do you have any examples of cakes that you like, or cakes that have elements that you like and/or do you have a Pinterest board to share with ideas for your wedding?

With that information, I'll give you an estimate. If that estimate fits within your budget, at this point we would meet for a tasting/consultation appointment. My tasting fee is $40 and includes a set menu of my most popular cake, filling and frosting flavors which you can see on my website. If you book with me, half of the tasting fee is credited to your final order (with a minimum order of $500).

Now the fun part begins - designing your cake! Below are some examples of the kind of design sketch you can expect to receive, and how those sketches became reality!
