Jake

HELLO FRIEND

I wear barefoot shoes (if I wear shoes at all), I rock a gnarly mustache, and I find just as much delight in a $7 pour over as I do in a 79 cent cup of gas station coffee. I use the energy from that dirty joe to wrangle two forest children who fill my house with mud and sticks, and my heart with happiness. A portion of that energy is also used to hang out with Queen Mama. We're kissy face mates who plan adventures, write musicals, balance budgets, and carry all those mud and sticks from the living room back to the yard. I siphon off another chunk of that energy to do the work I love: telling stories. I've been telling stories since I was filling my mother's house with muddy sticks of my own.

Some of my first stories were written in crayon and those scented markers that almost certainly weren't good for a 7-year-old to be smelling all day. Then I started writing songs, which are just stories you can snap your fingers to. Then I started writing papers for professors who wanted to hear stories about history and psychologists. I often had to come up with stories about why those papers weren't turned in on time. Most of my stories now are told around campfires, kitchen tables, or snuggled up in bed with the fam. But some of my favorite stories to tell are about the wild adventure of love.

LET'S TALK ABOUT WEDDING FILMS

There's one word you won't ever hear me use. Are you ready for it? It's "Capture." As in, "I'm going to capture your big day." I'm not going to capture anything on your wedding day. Do you know why? Because I'm not a creepy old witch in a gingerbread house and your wedding isn't Hansel and Gretel. Love wouldn't be love if you could capture it. So what am I going to do?

I'm going to tell a beautiful story about the day you two stepped into the next chapter of your wild adventure. I'm not showing up with a net to capture a feeling, I'm showing up with a camera to document an experience. We love to look at photos and watch films, not because they perfectly captured our experience, but because they tell our story all over again and invite us to relive it in light of all that has happened since the camera stopped rolling. A captured moment is one that happened in the past. Telling your story is something that is happening right here in the present. Your love is wild and free, and my films make sure it stays that way.

WHAT IS AN ADVENTURE SESSION?

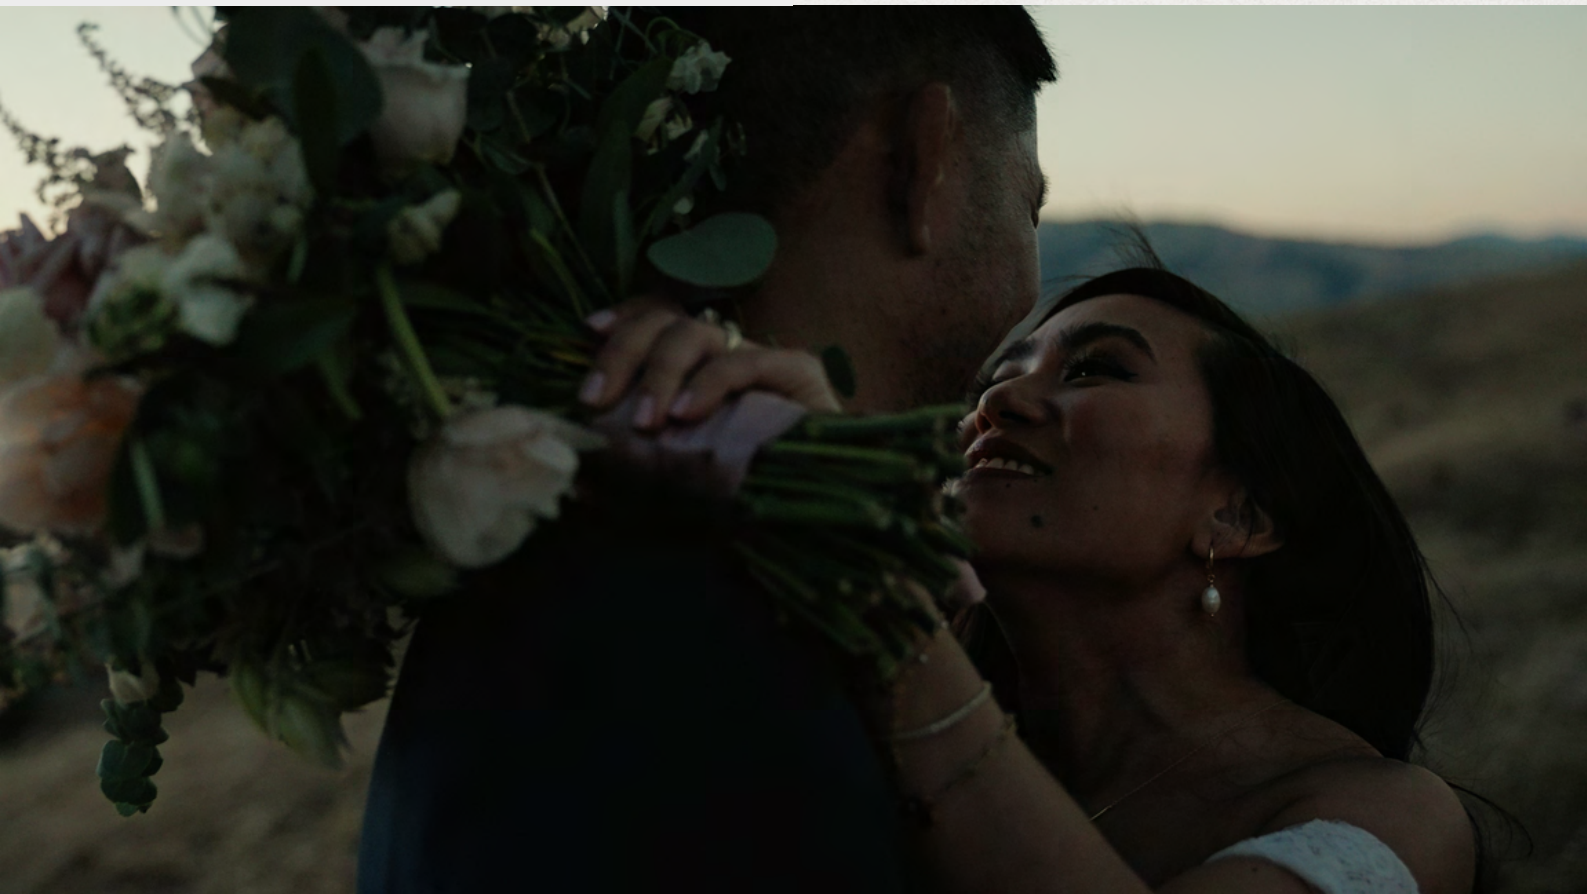

A man in a dark suit and a woman in a white lace wedding dress and veil are standing outdoors at sunset. Both are holding cameras up to their eyes, taking photos. The background is a soft, hazy landscape with a single bright light in the sky.

AN ADVENTURE SESSION IS A TWO-HOUR SHOOT THE MORNING OR EVENING AFTER YOUR WEDDING. IT'S FULL OF LAUGHTER, FUN, AND EXPLORATION AS YOU RUN AROUND BEAUTIFUL PLACES WITH EACH OTHER AND REFLECT ON THE WILD ADVENTURE YOU'VE BEGUN. YOU CAN BOOK AN ADVENTURE SESSION ON IT'S OWN, OR ADD IT TO A WEDDING OR ELOPEMENT TO TAKE YOUR FILM TO THE NEXT LEVEL.

"Working with Jake was an absolute blast! He brought a sense of fun and adventure that made the whole day awesome. He helped us stay calm during the stressful moments of the day, and all we remember are the good times and good vibes! He's the perfect person to have around on your wedding day!"

"Jake was the most easy going but energetic part of our day. Hands down he'll keep everyone super calm, but when he finds that perfect light, he'll let you know! We love our wedding film because It feels just like our wedding: a party! When I tell you I watch our film at least once every two or three days!"
