My Goal as a Filmmaker

After you book with me, you become my priority! I want to know all about you guys and what you makes you, you. My work is fully based on your love and your unique quirks. It's all about being present over being perfect. My best videos come from couples who are down to explore their adventurous side and let me show off their love story. And don't worry, I know most people aren't totally comfortable in front of a camera, so I got you. It's my job to make you guys look awesome and I can't do that without a level of trust and compatibility! I'm super down to earth and will most likely help move things around, hold the dress, fix the tie, you name it! You invite me in to capture a very special and intimate day and I'll honor that by creating a natural, feel-good environment and wedding video you're proud of. Ask me recommendations for poses, day of timing, best spots for shooting at the venue and more! I'll be right there to help you guys all day while capturing the raw, intimate moments without all the awkward interaction! Let's make a truly timeless wedding film!
