All of the services that I provide, including my high energy, will work together to focus on you as a couple and create the atmosphere that will make your special day memorable for all for years to come. While you are being the Hosts, I will be diligently working in the background making sure all of the events proceed at the times that you are ready, and can edit on the fly anything that may strike your taste for the moment. There will be no surprises financially on the day of your event.

In summary, all of the services listed above will be provided for the sum of $1600-$3500 Depending on location and your specific details. In order to secure your date and my services I request a deposit of approx 33% in the amount of $550-$1200. The planning is important to me as well. I am excited to hear more about what your plans are. Look forward to talking with you soon, Thank you for the opportunity
