Let us start off by saying

Congratulations!
We're glad you're here.

Meet the Faces Behind the Lens:

Capturing life's most precious moments through the lens of love. At Andreoni Photography, we are more than just photographers and videographers — we're a family-centered team that understands the significance of each moment. With a husband and wife at the heart of our creative vision, and our son as our second shooter, we bring a unique blend of passion and expertise to every project.

Our approach is all about embracing the beauty of real moments. We believe in creating a calm and stress-free environment, allowing your family's genuine emotions to shine. From engagements to weddings, we're here to freeze-frame the love, joy, and connections that make life extraordinary. Let us tell your story through our lens, preserving memories that will warm your heart for generations to come.

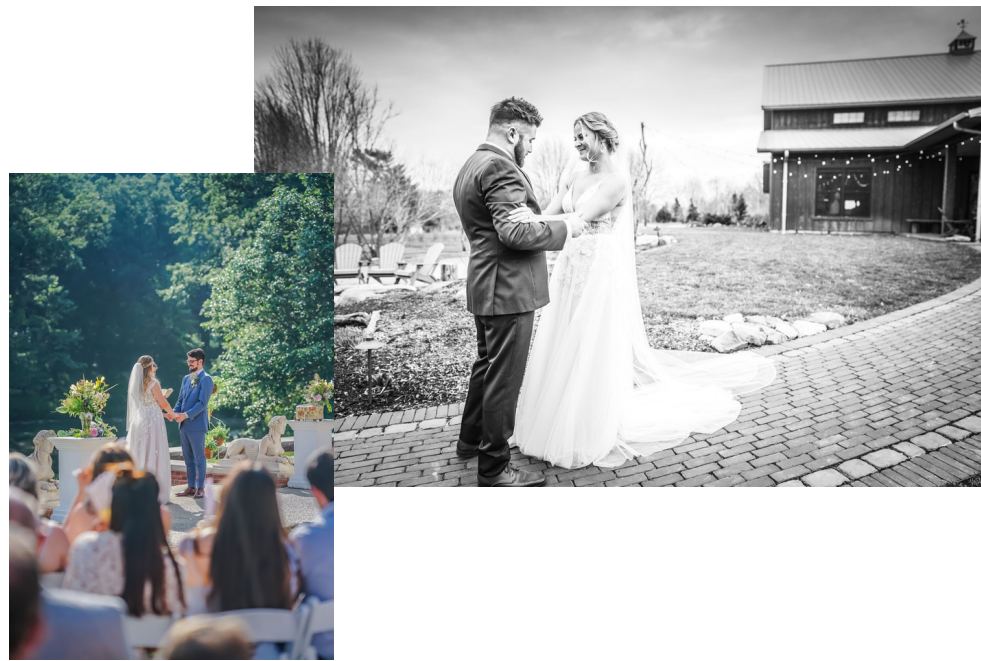

Booking Your Wedding Journey: Let's Create Memories Together"

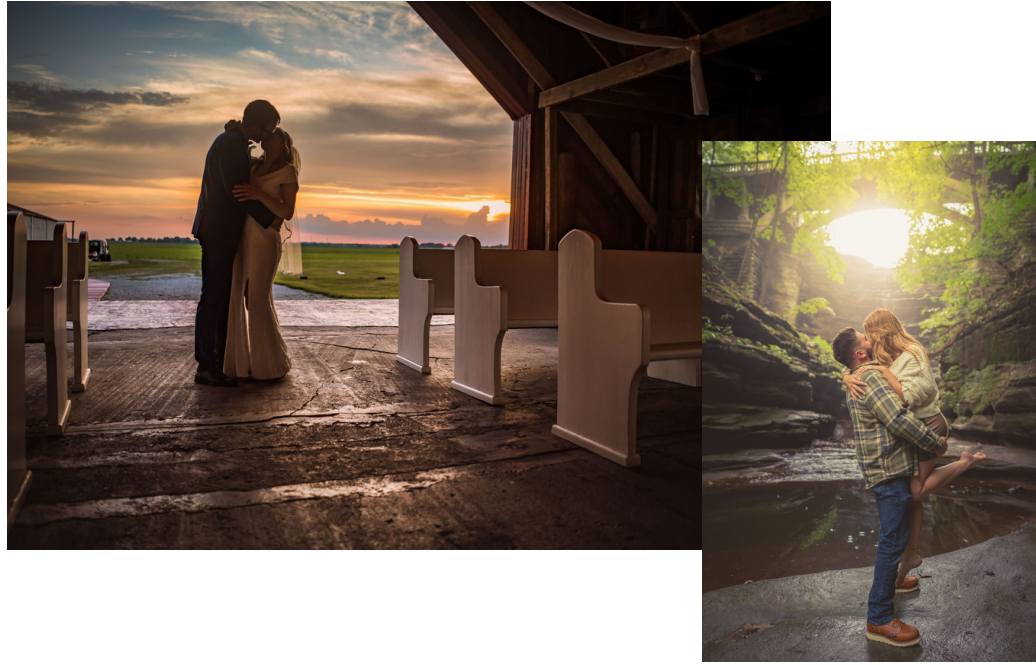

At Andreoni Photography, we believe in offering you a personalized experience from the very beginning. We're excited to embark on this journey with you.

1. Customizable Packages, Personal Connection: Your wedding day is as unique as your love story, and our packages are designed to reflect that. To ensure that your experience with us is tailored to your vision, we like to start with a strategy call. Whether it's a phone call, a Zoom, or your preferred platform, we're here to accommodate your comfort. This call allows us to understand your aspirations, discuss your requirements, and ensure that we're a perfect fit for capturing your special day.

2. Let's Chat and Connect: During our strategy call, we'll delve into the details that matter most to you. From the style of photography and the timeline of events to the cherished moments you want immortalized, this call is all about bringing your dreams to life. We're not just photographers; we're your partners in crafting memories that resonate with your hearts.

3. Securing Your Date: Once we've connected and you're ready to move forward, we require a 50% non-refundable deposit to secure your wedding date. This ensures that we're exclusively reserved for your celebration, allowing us to focus solely on capturing your precious moments.

4. Remaining Balance: As your wedding day approaches, the remaining balance is due by the wedding day itself. This seamless payment process ensures that you can focus on enjoying your day, knowing that your memories are in safe hands.

5. Your Story, Our Promise: At Andreoni Photography, our promise is to honor your story and encapsulate the emotions that define it. We're here to guide you, support you, and bring your vision to life through our lens.

Let's take the first step in this wonderful journey together.

Reach out to schedule your strategy call and begin the process of creating timeless memories that will last a lifetime.
