How are Independent Agents compensated?

IntelTravel.com, as your agency, receives commissions from Travel Partners, of a percentage of the price of travel you or your customers purchase, and then shares those commissions with you. See the Commission link in your Agent Only area, updated from time to time, for details and example calculations. If you are travelling yourself, consider your commission on your own travel, when applicable, as a rebate of sorts – a savings or discount after the fact, adding to any savings you already may enjoy from IntelTravel's expert pricing and exclusive offers.
