

Meet your wedding videography team: Lola & Hollie

We started filming weddings together in 2010, married each other in 2015, and the rest is history! Our years of experience benefit our couples as we help guide them in making a plan for coverage of their day that is both within their budget and gives them the best end product possible. Our style is unobtrusive while making sure we capture every important moment of your day. We love what we do, and we think it shows in our work!
