OUR STORY

Lazy Mountain Acres is a gorgeous 39-acre property, nestled between Lazy Mountain and the Matanuska River at the base of Lazy Mountain in Palmer, Alaska. Lazy Mountain Acres is a female-owned, Alaska Native-owned, family business, located just 45 miles from Anchorage.

The property includes a large home and a Western-style horse barn and arena, surrounded by some of the most beautiful mountains, forests, and glaciers that Alaska has to offer. The fields at Lazy Mountain Acres are planted with 2,500 peony roots of 14 different varieties and are available for sale to wholesalers and florists in locations served by Alaska Air Cargo direct flights, online sale to individuals, and local pick-your-own events.

THE FARM

What was initially a simple peony farm, Lazy Mountain Acres is being transformed into a rustic event venue with multiple outdoor sites and a 6,000 square foot, fully renovated horse barn available for weddings, family reunions, corporate business meetings/retreats, and other events. Lazy Mountain Acres is Handicap Accessible, pet-friendly, with ample parking available onsite.

The outdoor event locations include:

Amphitheater

The amphitheater overlooks the peony fields and the Matanuska River Valley and Talkeetna Mountains. The terrace seating and large grass stage overlooking the peony field has seating for 100 to 300 guests for wedding ceremonies, services, and performances.

Mountain View Deck

The Mountain View Deck is a platform built over a meadow vale with a view of the surrounding forest and Pioneer Peak. The Mountain View Deck can accommodate 100 guests for ceremonial events.

Woodland Garden

The Woodland Garden is accessed by way of a magical, wood inlaid pathway that leads to an outdoor chapel overlooking the Chugach Mountains. The Woodland Garden can accommodate 100 guests for ceremonial events.

THE BARN

The upper hay loft of the barn will accommodate up to 150 guests for ceremonies, receptions, and parties. The lower level features a bridal suite, four guest rooms, bathrooms, caterer's kitchen, and a space for rehearsal/group dinners.
