The Process

Meet the Couple

*I like to meet over coffee/tea or at our home/studio to get to know one another. I get to know your personalities, photographic preferences for your wedding and anything else you prefer to share! You get to see products offered, previous wedding and engagement photos, and get to know a bit about who we are and why I love this profession. This is also our chance to start getting creative! We discuss engagement locations and ideas for planning your big day.

Engagement Session

*1.5-2 hours on-location photo session
*PWP-Fully edited proofs will be online within 2-3 weeks
*A download code will be given to the engaged couple to access printable image files

Meeting/Phone Conversation

We like to speak with the couple two weeks prior to the day of the wedding to discuss the itinerary for the day and any final details/

Caleb

The event that is a wedding is manifestation of the love that grew from a tiny spark between two people. Weddings celebrate the family and they recognize friendships; time-honored traditions are carried out, while priceless new memories are born. To be invited to share that with our clients is not only our pleasure, it's our honor.

PWP is a collaboration of education, style and of technique. Applying 8 years of background in documentary wedding photography with Caleb's commercial and editorial background, I take careful consideration of our clients individuality and incorporate techniques of the photographic Masters. PWP creates a clear storyline, as well as produces standalone images.
