Wedding Flowers That Give a Fuck

For something that brings so much beauty into the world, the floral industry is ugly. Most commercially-available flowers are grown by folks making a slave wage, then sprayed with toxic pesticides, wrapped in single-use plastic, flown across the globe, and arranged with floral foam that can give florists cancer. All those resources, and they still die, just like any other flower.

What a fucking waste.

We're over it at Bramble & Blossom, and as eco-friendly floral designers, we've committed to being part of the solution through sustainable practices like ditching the floral foam and single-use mechanics, composting, and exclusively working with American-grown flowers in the local Pittsburgh area.

And we hope you're over it, too. Because we can't be the change without your help.

Making Flower Magic

Your personality in flower form. We'll get to know you on a deep level to understand your style and tastes before designing custom arrangements, bouquets, and floral installations that reflect your love story. Every detail will be interconnected and stunning. Creating unforgettable, ethical wedding florals authentic to you is our floral designer superpower.

Our Signature Process

Sourcing Slow Flowers

We work with exclusively seasonal, American-grown flowers in our arrangements. It's a whole vibe. We spend the entire year chatting with our farmers about planting schedules, bug problems, and the weather to make sure you get the most gorgeous blooms for your wedding.

Creating Authentic Designs

What are your favorite brunch spots in Pittsburgh? (You'll catch our owner, Jessica, at Zenith on the Southside.) How do you like to decorate your home? It's unusual questions like these that help us get to know you well and design flowers that'll knock your socks off.

Delivering the Details

Come wedding day, we'll install your arrangements with enthusiasm, care, and stunning finishing details. Not a petal will be out of place. Get ready to receive compliments all night long, and for years to come.

What folks are saying about Bramble & Blossom

"My partner and I are both wedding photographers ourselves so we had high standards when searching for vendors for our own wedding. Jessica is the absolute best - hands down. She offers ethical, locally sourced floristry and has a creative eye like no one else. We were so happy to find someone who was so willing to source as many blooms locally as possible and also help us lessen the impact of our florals (taking extras for compost / assisting with figuring out floral donations). We gave Jessica full creative control with our florals and they turned out better than I could have ever dreamed."

Maya + Michael

"Jessica's wildflower arrangements for my wedding were so good that she must actually be a fairy of some sort who can speak to the flowers! She worked magic, so far above and beyond what I expected-- and did it all with a smile on her face! She's amazing!"

Shula + Josiah

"The floral designs they create are absolutely beautiful and they go above and beyond to bring your wedding flower dreams to life. From the beginning, Jessica was kind, helpful, and so very knowledgeable about about all things flowers. Jessica and her team work with locally grown, seasonal flowers to create arrangements that reflect your wedding vision and wedding venue. Our wedding felt like a fairytale and the flowers were so bright and cheerful and perfectly reflected our day. We can confidently say Bramble & Blossom exceeded our expectations with the floral designs they created for our wedding day. Thank you Jessica and team for being so awesome!"

Carolyn + Zak

"From our first conversation, Jessica understood our vision even better than we did. Our flowers couldn't have been more beautiful, and they created a magical atmosphere for our day."
