

The pricing of the paper-cuttings depend on several variables:

- the complexity of the design - and research required
- the final size of the piece (which can be determined at the time of ordering)
- the type of framing desired

All the art is cut from acid-free Crane's paper and is mounted on acid-free mat board.

The exciting process involves:

- talking with the client to determine their wishes for what should be included in the art piece (the names and date ... flowers of the wedding ... history of the couple ...theme or locations of the wedding ... specifics that are important to be a part of THE day)
- creating a rough sketch for approval
- creating a final design for approval
- framing the art.

The cost for the average wedding cutting ranges between $300-$800.
