A LETTER FOR YOU

Thank you forever and ever for considering me and my art; it is not too often that many entrepreneurs succeed in the pursuit of making a living with their art, and I am beyond blessed because of couples like you who continue to choose me year after year. Thank you for trusting me to capture your day in a beautiful way and to preserve such precious memories for you.

OPTIONAL EXTRAS

01. Photography by the Hour

I completely understand that every wedding day is super unique, and you may need me for more or less time than the package of your dreams includes. Sweet! You can add hours at $200 an hour or take hours away at $100 an hour.

This gal can be booked for a maximum of 10 hours in a day.

02. Second Shooter by the Hour

I never see the need for a second shooter unless for super specific situations, so let's talk about it. Just know the option is there for a minimum 1 hour booking.

Price varies by location.

03. Engagement Session

You can add on an engagement session to all packages at a discounted rate of $350 which includes an amazing hour of bonding + shooting time with your wedding photographer to get all cozy before your wedding day. Oh yeah, and 30+ gorgeous images showing your beautiful, weird love for each other.

04. Other Sessions

You can absolutely switch your engagement session out for a bridal session. If you are interested in a boudoir session, tell me, and I will totally send you the packages. Psst, those are also discounted when you book your wedding with me.

MEET THE PHOTOGRAPHER

I am walking into my 7th year as a wedding photographer. Wow.

While my first wedding was in 2016, I truly devoted to doing this thing full time in 2020, mid pandemic, mid panic really. If you had told me 3 years ago that as soon as I went for it, I'd be met with so many sweet couples wanting me to capture their best days, well, I for sure would not have been crying for weeks over the stressful decision of leaving my junior year of nursing school to do what I really wanted to do from the get go:

capture honest and beautiful love stories around the globe.

You cry happy tears, I cry happy tears. I have such a passion and fervor for what I do, and I believe that shows through my life and work! You're not just getting a seasoned photographer; you're getting someone that can confidently say that they "have you" from start to finish. You're getting someone that is experienced, creative, personable, professional, and truly excited for you. I know I bring so much genuine love and life into what I do, and I can't wait for you to reach out!

With love and excitement, Gracie

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU

When talking with my couples, I hear, "I am overwhelmed with the stress of wedding planning." a lottttt. I know that wedding planning can feel like a full time job. I want to relieve as much of that stress for my couples as possible.

What is something that I offer that most other photographers do not? Any guesses? You don't have to wonder; I'll just tell you.

One of the many benefits to booking with me is that I offer custom itineraries for each of my couple's wedding days based completely on how they want their day to flow. How do I know my couples so well? In the initial message I send, under step 2, I request each of my couples to tell me about their day via the link; the link leads to a form where I ask them to answer a handful questions, essentially helping me find out how I can best capture their day! From there, I build their itinerary off the specific shot list that I will work through on their day. I build it in a way that allows for their day to flow easily and logically. I have been capturing weddings since '16, ya know? I like to think I have a great working knowledge of how weddings flow and work at this point; I also know how much time it takes to create + capture certain moments for my couples. I am happy to create custom itineraries for my couples because it sets their day up for success and ease, it allows them to start planning other vendor start times around their actual day, they don't have to wonder where each person needs to be or when certain photos will take place, and most importantly, it saves my couples so much stress leading up to as well as on their actual day. Does that sounds like something you would want?

SECURING YOUR DATE

01. Complete Your Form

The form I link in step 2 of the message I sent you will lead you to a form with essential questions I need answered in order to create your contract.

02. Contract Deposit

Place a security deposit of $200.00 for me to create your contract. Should you decide to go another way once the contract is delivered to you, the $200.00 is nonrefundable to cover my time customizing it for you. However, should you proceed with your contract & book with me, the $200.00 of course goes toward your overall total.

03. Complete Your Contract

You have 72 hours to complete your contract after it is delivered to you or otherwise risk forfeiting the hold on your date with me as well as the $200 contract installment payment. Then sign & complete your contract once it is delivered.

04. Finalize Your Payment

Complete the remainder of your payment or set up a payment plan agreement. Most couples decide to pay in full to check it off their budget to do list! However, choosing to pay 1/2 down now and 1/2 later is an interest free payment option. Separate your total into 3 payments for a 3% fee. Separate your total into 4 payments for a 5% fee. Separate your total into 5 payments for a 7% fee. Separate your total into 6 payments for a 10% fee.

For the $200.00 deposit & future payments, I accept payments via Cash App or Venmo.

Note: These are the only two acceptable usernames to send me money. Should you choose a payment method that charges a fee on my end, you will be responsible for making that up. Avoid selecting a payment protection option unless you'd like to pay that fee for your convenience. If you do not have either of these apps, let me know, and we can possibly find an alternative. TIA!
